```
h972issC kjc
      UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
1
      SOUTHERN DISTRICT OF NEW YORK
 2
3
     UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
                                              New York, N.Y.
                                              17 Cr. 74(CM)
 4
                 V.
5
      IBRAHIM ISSA,
6
                    Defendant.
          -----x
 7
 8
                                              September 7, 2017
                                              3:00 p.m.
9
10
     Before:
11
                          HON. COLLEEN McMAHON, 12
                                              Chief Judge
13
14
                                APPEARANCES
15
      JOON H. KIM
16
           Acting United States Attorney for the Southern District of New York 17
     BY: ELIZABETH A. HANFT
          Assistant United States Attorney
18
     BRAFMAN & ASSOCIATES, P.C.
19
          Attorney for Defendant
20
     BY: JOSHUA KIRSHNER
21
22
23
24
25
```

h972issC kjc

(Case called)

MS. HANFT: Good afternoon, your Honor. Elizabeth Hanft for the government.

MR. KIRSHNER: Good afternoon, your Honor. Joshua Kirshner for the defendant, Ibrahim Issa, who is present in court today.

THE COURT: Good afternoon. Sorry I kept you waiting. Where are we in this case?

MS. HANFT: Well, your Honor, discovery has been produced to defense counsel. We have been in some discussions. I believe, I anticipate that the defense will be asking the court to put this conference over for another month.

THE COURT: This is not the most complicated case in the planet and nothing has happened. It is criminal case number 74 filed this year.

MS. HANFT: Understood, your Honor. If your Honor would like to set a motion deadline and/or a trial date, that's fine.

THE COURT: I intend to set both.

MS. HANFT: Okay.

THE COURT: Yes, sir.

MR. KIRSHNER: Thank you, your Honor.

The only reason we would be asking for a little bit of additional time to set the motion schedule is the government has indicated to us that they may supersede with largely

h972issC kjc

1

2

3

4

5

6

7

8

9

10

11

12

13

14

15

16

17

18

19

20

21

22

23

24

25

unrelated charges, in which case we wouldn't want to have two rounds of motions.

THE COURT: I certainly won't want to do that either, but maybe I will put the government's feet to the fire.

MS. HANFT: Yes, your Honor.

The only thing I can say at this time is that in all cases we continue to investigate and we are still deciding whether or not to supersede with the tax charges, as we have informed defense counsel.

Certainly these charges will still remain.

THE COURT: Well, that I understand. You are considering adding tax charges.

Look, I'm setting the following schedule in this case:

Defense motions by October 27; government response by November 9; defense reply November 17. Let's also set a conference date in December, which will be a decision date on the motions.

THE DEPUTY CLERK: Thursday, November 14.

MS. HANFT: That works for the government, your Honor.

THE COURT: 4:00.

MR. KIRSHNER: That's fine, your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay. And time is excluded until then in the interests of justice, the defendant's interest in a speedy trial being outweighed both by counsels' request for additional time and by the need to get motions made and decided.

h972issC kjc

And then we will be looking, I imagine, at a late March/early April trial date, which I will get out to you in writing.

MR. KIRSHNER: Thank you, your Honor.

THE COURT: Okay? Okay. I don't want the government to supersede in February.

MS. HANFT: Understood, your Honor.

THE COURT: Thank you.

Okay. Thank you very much.

MS. HANFT: Thank you, your Honor.